CBA EAST NEWS

Our thanks go to those Committee members who have organised events during the spring. Contemporary and Historical Archaeology has suddenly become very popular!

Dr Mark Curteis led a well-attended expedition to examine multiple WW2 sites on the Essex/Suffolk border (Chappel and Wormingford).

22 members of CBA East and our associate groups enjoyed a fantastic tour of the military remains (from WW1 to the Cold War) on Orford Ness, ably led by National Trust Regional Archaeologist and CBA East member Angus Wainwright. We were able to visit areas not normally open to the public, including the RWE laboratories built to test the UK's nuclear deterrent.

Close inspection of one of the earlier labs

CBA East is a registered charity in England & Wales 1086510.

We had a good view of the famous “pagodas” (the later design adopted after doubts were cast on the safety of the earlier labs in the event of an explosion). Unfortunately we could not approach as close to these, partly as the structures are becoming dangerously unstable and partly in order not to disturb the gulls nesting on the roofs! CBA East Events coming up over the summer.

Not all details are finalised yet – further information will be emailed to members when available.

Friday 10th July. Site Visit to Alpheton Roman Villa Excavations near Long Melford, Suffolk

Suffolk County Council Archaeological Service invite CBA East members to attend an exclusive tour of the archaeological excavations of the Roman villa at Alpheton this summer.

Date: Friday 10th July 2026

Time: 11am

Parking available, directions will be circulated to attendees.

Limited facilities (portaloo).

Spaces are limited, so booking is essential. Please book with no of places required by email to connoraileen93@gmail.com

The excavations are being undertaken in partnership with UCL Institute of Archaeology. The Roman villa at Alpheton is one of several substantial villa complexes identified during the last 50 years in the vicinity of the large roadside settlement of Long Melford. This summer they hope to uncover buildings associated with the Roman villa complex, the bathhouse and enclosure ditch.

CBA East is a registered charity in England & Wales 1086510.

This is an outdoors walking tour across fields, so be prepared for sloping and uneven terrain. Regarding disabled access: due to the natural terrain, access is limited – if any attendees have access requirements please get in touch and we will do our best to accommodate. This tour is being organised as part of the community archaeology project Romans Unearthed: Suffolk's Hidden Villas, funded by The National Lottery Heritage Fund. Find out more online: <https://heritage.suffolk.gov.uk/romans-unearthed>

Sunday 26th July or 23rd August (to be confirmed). Stephen Macaulay of Oxford Archaeology will lead a walk over the site of Landbeach Manors (near Cambridge). Further details tbc.

Sunday 2nd August, details tba. CBA East chair Aileen Connor will lead a tour of Mutlow Hill and Fleam Dyke.

CBA East AGM: details to be announced soon.

CBA NATIONAL NEWS

“This is Archaeology” online lecture series

22 July 2026. 7.00 pm. Iris Kramer: AI Mapping of Historic Landscapes for Nature Recovery at National Scale. ArchAI uses AI to detect historic features at national scale, combining earthwork detection from LiDAR with habitat mapping from historic Ordnance Survey maps. This creates practical evidence for land managers and planners who need to make decisions quickly, and defensibly. Iris will show how these time layered datasets can support organisations such as the Forestry Commission to plant trees without accidentally damaging the historic environment. By identifying earthworks and other surviving landscape features, we can steer woodland creation away from monuments that are worth protecting, while still delivering nature recovery at pace. The same historic perspective also helps reveal where restoration is most likely to work. We can map where rivers once meandered before being straightened, helping target river restoration that reduces flood risk and improves habitat. We can also identify “ghost ponds”, historic ponds that have been filled in but still hold seedbanks, so that restoration can bring back wetland species that have been absent locally for a century. This talk argues for a more joined-up approach to land management. By detecting past habitats and surviving earthworks at scale, we can reduce unintended damage, target restoration where it is most likely to succeed, and give organisations clearer, data-led options for planning, funding, and delivery. GIS allows for the visualization, analysis, and understanding of spatial data, which can be applied across numerous disciplines. Whether assessing the spatial distribution of species in ecology or evaluating urban growth patterns, GIS provides the tools needed to analyze geographic relationships and trends. Dr Nick Bearman, an esteemed instructor from University College London and Geospatial Training Solutions, brings this essential toolbox to academia through this engaging workshop. Designed specifically for PhD students, academics, and professional researchers, this seminar offers a concise yet comprehensive introduction to GIS, making it a crucial resource for those looking to enhance their research capabilities. Saturday 18th July, All day. Chelmsford Museum Iron Age Day. Celebrate the opening of our exhibition showcasing the Great Baddow Hoard with our free Iron Age Day at the museum and in Oaklands Park! The day will include living history stalls, archery, catapult and combat demonstrations.

We are proud of our Essex Iron Age and Roman historical connections, and on Saturday 18 July, we will be welcoming the award winning re-enactment society, Britannia, who were founded in Essex. Britannia have appeared in 100+ television and film productions, including the films Gladiator and Centurion, as well as every episode of television's Horrible Histories. Visitors can witness combat demonstrations during the day and throughout the event and they can chat to Britannia members, who will be portraying Iron Age Britons and Roman praetorian guards. They may even meet an Iron Age chieftain and some Roman ladies in their finery.

Admission to the museum will be free for the day, and the event is suitable for everyone.

!8th July to 11th April 2027. "Timeless Treasures" Exhibition at Chelmsford Museum. A dazzling new exhibition inspired by gold, mystery and remarkable discoveries.

At its heart is the Great Baddow Hoard, the largest recorded hoard of Iron Age gold coins ever found in Britain. Buried over 2,000 years ago, this extraordinary hoard poses a tantalising question: why was so much wealth hidden? Explore how this discovery is reshaping what we thought we knew about life in Essex during a time of upheaval and the threat of Julius Caesar's invasion.

Long Melford Heritage Trust have launched a project, enrolling volunteers to take surveys of surviving WW2 archaeology in the local area. A key focus of the new project - Silent Witness: War and Landscape in Long Melford and the Stour Valley – will be the network of pillboxes in this area. These formed part of one of the most important 'Stop Lines' in the eastern region - the 'Corps Line' - which passed through Great Cornard, Sudbury and Long Melford. Four major river crossings of the Stour marked this area out as important in strategic terms.

Friday 24th July, 7.30pm. Making good neighbours: Rampton Road and Roman Cambridgeshire - by Owain Scholma-Mason (Headland Archaeology).

FEAG talk at Rampton Village Hall, 4 Church End, Rampton, Cambridge CB24 8QA. Parking is available. Non-Members £3.

In 2021, the remains of a late Roman enclosure were uncovered at Rampton Road, Cottenham, Cambridgeshire. The site, comprising a single sub-divided enclosure, represents a fairly typical small farmstead of the Roman period. Of note, however, is the wider context in which the site is situated, which includes its proximity to another Roman farmstead just to the south-east as well as to the larger settlements at Bullocks Haste and Northstowe. In the course of this talk we will explore this wider context and its implications on our understanding of Rampton Road.

Many of our Members renew their membership alongside their national membership, via the CBA website. Members who are not also members of the national organisation renew via standing order to our bank account or annually on 1st January. Membership is £6.00 for individuals and £10.00 for Affiliated Societies. To join, please use the form at Membership-Application-DCG.pdf \(archaeologyuk.org\). Please contact me if you need our bank details to make a transfer. CBAE.Newsletter@archaeologyuk.org

There is no need to join CBA to be member of CBA East.

Please let us know if you wish to be removed from our mailing list.

GRANTS

CBA East awards small individual grants in support of archaeological study. We are keen to support a broad range of activity, and particularly wish to promote education, research, public awareness and participation in archaeology in the region. The criteria are flexible and hence appropriate for individuals or newly formed groups who are seeking funding for training, help with investigation of potential sites, or informal publication of initial work. Applications from young people who live in the region are particularly welcome. There is no longer a maximum on the amount of grant that can be applied for. Each grant application will be determined on its merits but must have some educational benefit for the local community. Applications for grants may be submitted at any time for consideration at the next following Committee meeting. Further details at <http://cbae.archaeologyuk.org/grants/>.

CBA CODE OF CONDUCT

As affiliates of the national Council for British Archaeology, we at CBA East have signed up to the CBA Code of Conduct which can be read here: <https://www.archaeologyuk.org/code-of-conduct.html>

CBA East is a registered charity in England & Wales 1086510.
